

Personal data – Call for Abstracts

Abstract No.

4th International Conference of the German Society of Midwifery Science
(Deutsche Gesellschaft für Hebammenwissenschaft e.V.)
16th February 2018 in Mainz, Germany

Motto: The academic midwife – practice and science

Please note the following:

- The abstracts of the oral and poster presentations for the conference will be published in a special supplementary conference edition of the Journal of Midwifery Science (Zeitschrift für Hebammenwissenschaft) and an online edition will be available on the German Medical Science (gms) platform. The presentations will be indexed and permanently saved in the gms database and freely accessible via the internet.
- Please provide the data requested below when submitting your abstract. If you are non-German speaking, an English abstract will suffice. Your abstract will only be considered for peer-review if all required data are provided! All bibliographic data for author identification (including your initials and title) will be copied from the personal data provided in this form (see below).
- When your abstract has been accepted we will ask you to sign an “author’s contract” and send it in by post (more details will be provided in case of acceptance). With regard to those abstracts accepted for an oral presentation, an additional “presenter’s contract” will need to be signed.
- Please note that paying the attendance fee and attending the conference are mandatory if your abstract has been accepted (“author’s contract”).
- Should your abstract for the 4th International Conference not be accepted, the abstract, all data and related digital files will be promptly and securely deleted.

Information pertaining to the abstract:

- To submit your abstract in English please complete the form “Abstract-Submission_4. Int Fachtagung_2018_German-English” (pages 3 & 4), including the keywords and indicating the type and source of financing of the study/project described in the abstract.
- Please follow the instructions concerning the length of the abstract and literature citations.
- When writing the abstract please follow the SQUIRE-Guidelines (criteria) (see: <https://www.dghwi.de/index.php/journal-of-midwifery-science/instruction-for-authors>).
- Please limit literature citations to a maximum of 5 sources. Cite and format them according to “Vancouver Style of Referencing” (see: <https://web.library.uq.edu.au/files/26541/VancouverStyleGuideFinal2014.pdf>)
